How free can our offices be?
This free!

Different tasks, tastes, styles. Creative, enquiring people value diversity, cherish individual ways of working, take pleasure in whatever heartens and inspires those around them. In the office environment, design matters, shape and color matter, freedom of expression matters. We present a semi-order made office system in which selected elements are brought together to create the personalized working environment you have always wanted. Manifold will free you to work in the ways you work best.

story 01 Sports Apparel Brand

Street fashion is born here.
Office space exhilarates creators of trends.

Athletes strive, sweat, exult – and the renowned brand of sports apparel they wear on track and podium is the work of a design team whose creativity must take a leap further. Clothing that unites presence with functionality now moves into the fast lane of youthful fashion - a market highly sensitive to trends, to image. In the studio too a pop of color, hot or cool, can make all the difference. Color options, as in the side panels of their work tables, add to the team's sense of a personalized space that expresses their own high spirits.

Room for playfulness. Room for laughter.
This is how creativity is set free.

Manifold Bench-Type: W3200 x D1600, slanted legs, white-oak block tabletop, purple side covers, center rail Options: Desktop cabinet 800W and cushioned wagon with white body and lime cushion story 02 Architectural Firm

Creators of high-concept, high-precision spaces relax in a natural ambience that's all their own.

An architectural firm works on an endless variety of projects: homes, offices, concert halls, air terminals. Clients' requirements and reactions, along with budgets, can change overnight. Rethinking needs to happen constantly, and conventional spaces hinder originality. A flexible setting - using options like this wood veneer worktop that forms a simple natural background to complicated plans - makes possible the collaboration necessary to working at the highest level in a fiercely competitive world.

Creativity has its own requirements. Freedom from stress, freedom to kick back and share ideas. Take a moment to watch a leaf unfold, and who knows what might come of it ... a movable roof, a graceful atrium ...

Manifold High Table: W2400 × D900, straight legs, neo-wood light tabletop Options: Monitor unit and end-storage (hanging type)

story 03 Application Creators

Cutting-edge information and cutting-edge technology come together fast, in a room that hums with the freshest possible ideas and the sharpest solutions.

What do users want now? What will they want tomorrow? Working in application development, you constantly ask yourself questions, keeping ahead. And yet, intensely involved in IT though you are, you care about face-to-face communication. You need your own space, to concentrate. But when worktop shape options allow connectedness too, you can let go of stress, and totally enjoy working in this new style environment, with the most advanced technology and the best people in the field.

Uncompromising speed, uncompromising quality.
Brilliant outcomes in a work setting that allows both intense individual focus and generous teamwork.

story 04 Legal office

Lawyers focus on the essence of things, needing to understand how life happens. Toughness and empathy are equally necessary qualities, and finding a balance between them is never easy.

The best lawyers are problem solvers, logical left brain and intuitive right brain both fully engaged. They work with others – colleagues, clients, adversaries - to find and communicate sometimes extraordinarily complex solutions to human problems, sometimes hard-won compromises. It is demanding work that takes time and space. A table with dark oak worktop and elegant black legs (colors optional) provides a calm, comfortable, supportive conference space around which difficult questions may be asked, arguments defended, and answers reached.

Conference table: Loop-leg type, W6000 × D1600, oak black tabletop, center rail
